Seth Bone is a life long resident of Sitka, Alaska. He opened Kingfisher Lodge in 1990. Kingfisher Lodge provides topflight lodging on Sitka Sound with its stellar fishing opportunities. Join our lodge's many satisfied customers on your next vacation. Client referrals have helped our small family lodge and charter service grow from a one man operation to a top Alaska fishing lodge.

Kingfisher Charters operates only modern, fully equipped charter boats for the safety and comfort of our customers. Our guides are experienced, professional, and competitive, their goal is to put you on the fish. Another distinct advantage of choosing Sitka as your Alaskan fishing destination is that you're able to target all of the game fish for which the state is famous. We go fishing for dime-bright, ocean-run Alaska salmon right in the path of their migratory routes, targeting kings throughout the season, and silvers that really get going mid July. Bottom fishing in our Alaska waters is also top-notch, and we target pacific halibut, several species of rockfish, lingcod, and sablefish.

Best of all, your fishing adventure will allow you to target all of these species in a single day, and it's routine for us to limit out on salmon and halibut daily.

Additionally, Sitka area waters offer access to sablefish (aka black cod) when ocean conditions permit. Sablefish is a deep dwelling bottom fish that is one of the best eating white fish (if you like Chilean sea bass, you'll love sablefish).
